CLEAN-UP
Is The Order of the Day in the Third Ward—People of Second Ward Worked Hard Yesterday to Get Things in Spic and Span Shape.
Everybody had their sleeves rolled up in the Second Ward and were digging in the rubbish heaps in order that their ward may be called the "Cleanest Ward in Town." The boys and girls and women deserve especial credit for the fine work they did. John Mahoney Hunt was awarded the dollar prize for gathering the largest pile of unburnable rubbish in the Second Ward.
Today is clean-up day for the Third Ward and the campaign committee is expecting this ward to "demonstrate even more interest in the clean-up campaign than was demonstrated by the Second Ward. We are wondering what boy or girl will get the prize today. Two boys have won the other prizes. Let's have a girl win the prize in the Third Ward.
Miss Nivin made another canvass of the places that are to receive special attention yesterday and was assured of the hearty co-operation by the citizens in cleaning their premises.
The ladies that are managing this campaign are very well pleased with the co-operation they are receiving from the citizens of Maysville. This afternoon a meeting will be held in the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce at which time the several committees will report the progress made and plans will be made for finishing up the work. One big problem that now confronts the committee is to keep the city in a clean condition after this week and more than likely some arrangements will be made to care for this condition at today's meeting.

FORMER MAYSVILLE PASTOR IS CHAPLAIN
Chaplain Locke White, formerly pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in this city, who is now with the Fifty-first Pioneer Infantry at Camp Washington, S. C., near Spartanburg, writes that the work there is getting along splendidly, that he is the happiest man in the world, and that he expects to be sent to France shortly. He has been commissioned chaplain with the rank of First Lieutenant.
WORK RESUMED AT THE DAM
With the falling of the river and the warm spring weather work has been resumed at the dam above this city, and the word has gone out that it will be rushed to completion. There is no necessity of workmen leaving Maysville because of lack of work as the wages paid at the dam are as good as can be received anywhere else, and the work is no harder here than elsewhere.
Lieutenant John Dudley Keith left yesterday afternoon for Jacksonville, Fla., to resume his military duties.

AMERICAN TROOPS CONTINUE TO ARRIVE IN GREAT NUMBERS
Artillery Duel Is In Progress on Wide Front—Both Allied and German Artillerymen Continue to Carry Weight of Conflict—Inclement Weather Holds Infantry Back.
Paris, May 7.—American troops are continuing to arrive on the front in force, Premier Clemenceau told Marcel Hutin, editor of the Echo de Paris, on returning today from a two-days' visit to the front area.
The premier brought back, he said, a feeling of confidence in the invincibility of the Entente forces.
London, May 7.—"Our own and the enemy's artillery have been very active north of the Lys and have shown some activity on other parts of the battle fronts," says Field Marshal Haig's report from British headquarters in France tonight.
"There is nothing further to report."
London, May 7.—It is now eight days since Von Arnim's shock troops broke their heads against the Anglo-French granite wall in Flanders and still they have not recovered sufficiently to renew the attempt to reap the fruits of Kemmel's capture.
Again the day was monopolized by the big guns. Again the British and French "heavies" registered as much spunk and fervor as the Teuton barkers opposing them. It is this increasingly effective allied counter battery work that is adding daily to the confidence here that when the next blow is struck by Hindenburg it will be a boomerang as was the one in Flanders a week ago yesterday.
Haig reports tonight that the artillery of both sides were "very active" north of the Lys. He adds that some activity was displayed by the guns on the other parts of the battlefield which indicates the Germans are about ready for a drive and are beginning the familiar feinting process trying to find a weak spot in the allied line.
A partial admission of the Australian's Sunday night success at Morlancourt when they advanced more than a quarter of a mile south and southwest from that village, came from the Berlin war office today. This mention of this action begins with the usual emphasis that the Australians were "employed by the British for an attack." It is conceded that the Anzacs reached the German foremost line on both sides of the Corbie-bray road, but Berlin says that "the twice repeated assault broke down with heavy losses."
The statement also records a German raid across the Aisne canal south of Brumont.
Field Marshal Haig's day bulletin told a brilliant raid by the Canadians south of Arras. They took prisoners and three machine guns, suffering only slight casualties, killing many Germans and causing great havoc among the enemy ranks.
From the older fronts the various official statements today reported only heavy gun actions.

NARROW ESCAPE IN AIRPLANE ACCIDENT
Kenneth E. Griffith, a first lieutenant in the airplane service in France, tells of a narrow escape he had from serious injury in a letter to his brother, Richard M. Griffith, 134 East Washington street, Indianapolis, Ind. Lieutenant Griffith had finished a fight and was just out of his machine when another machine ran into the rear end of his plane. His machine was cut to pieces up to the seat pit and Griffith said if he had been a little slower in leaving the machine, he might have been backed to pieces. He writes: "I am beginning to feel my oats in these French planes and enjoying what little joy riding I have a chance to do. Most of our flying is strictly business."
Lieutenant Griffith said that he had recently been placed in charge of twenty-eight flying officers.
Lieutenant Griffith is a grandson of Mr. I. M. Lane of this city.
NICARAGUA DECLARES WAR UPON THE KAISER
San Juan, Del Sur, Nicaragua, May 7.—The Nicaraguan congress today declared war on Germany and her allies.
The declaration of war was adopted by Congress at the suggestion of President Chamorro, with only four dissenting votes.
Congress also adopted a declaration of solidarity with the United States and the other American republics at war with Germany and Austria-Hungary and authorized the President to take steps for utilization to a full measure of the nation's forces in the war.
Nicaragua's action follows that of its neighbor, Guatemala, which last month declared war on Germany. Nicaragua severed relations with Germany a year ago.
It is the twentieth nation which has declared war against Germany.
Mr. C. S. Woodfi who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. R. B. Owens, of West Third street, left for Covington this morning.
Mrs. George Dodson entertained with a small card party last week in honor of her guest, Miss Clara Hoenig, of Cincinnati.
Mr. A. L. Powers, president of the Farmers and Planters Warehouse, is a business visitor here this week.
Mr. C. O. McDougle of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary McDougle, of Court street.
Mr. C. B. Paxton of Ashland, arrived here yesterday for a few days' visit.
Lieut. LeWright Browning arrived here yesterday from Columbus, Ohio.
Misses Jennie Douglas and Nettie Cook Dobyns are in Cincinnati today.

GERMANTOWN COMMENCEMENT
The Germantown High School Commencement exercises held at the Christian Church in that city last evening was attended by a large audience. The program for the evening was beautifully carried out, the Class Address by President E. T. Franklin of Union College, taking as his subject, "The Making of a Man", was especially appreciated and enjoyed by all present.
Mr. R. G. Hamblong, Secretary of the Board of Education presented the diplomas to the graduates.
CHANGE MACHINE
The Farmers and Traders Bank of this city have added to their office equipment a change machine, which works on the same principle as the adding machine. To change a twenty dollar bill into dimes now, they only have to press a button and there's your change.
WANTED

LOOK ON THIS MAYOR AND THEN ON THAT

Municipal government is improving in the United States. A great campaign of education among voters as to possibilities in the constructive government of cities has been productive of results. The ordinary citizen looks with critical eye on the many municipal activities. He now knows what he wants and how he wishes it done. And there has been much unselfish service by citizens of great ability, without other political interest, in behalf of better parks, better schools, great public hospitals, city planning and other municipal improvements.

But, although the United States is proceeding toward the goal of efficient municipal government and better men are willing to accept the burden of office and are being elected or appointed, the mayors of the two greatest American cities do not present an inspiring picture. The obscurity from which they were called by their parties offered the hope they were men who would develop latent abilities as civil administrators. But both William Hale Thompson of Chicago and John F. Hylan of New York have converted the hope as to the future into the anguish of the present. Mayor Thompson's insulting attitude toward the commissioners of our allies, an attitude assumed for a cheap political advantage among foreign-born voters which did not materialize, was the finishing touch for "Big Bill". He is now marking time in the mayoral office until the sands of his term have run out. But Mayor Hylan is newer at the job. His inefficiency has not yet tamed him. And he is playing hob with the many departments that were built up during the terms of John Purroy Mitchel and other mayors of New York.

Democracy may make mistakes in thus calling men from obscurity into political life. But democracy prepares for such men an obscurity far more abysmal, after they have "served their terms." It does not add time "for bad behavior."

AFTER THE WAR OUR PRESENT ALLIES WILL BECOME OUR TRADE ENEMIES

After the war, there must come the trade war. There can be no doubt of it; just as soon as the frantic efforts of the others enable them to get started again. We have still a long start, but procrastination so fast and stealthily eats up time!

After the war, our allies of today also become our trade enemies.

Among these, Germany herself aggressively built up a world-wide commerce on her own national label and standards thereunder controlled and enforced. Only that German spirit of control, itself being uncontrolled, could ever make the symbol "made in U. S. A." unnecessary or unwise as some Americans think it.

Beneath all its countries and trickerie and blandishments the trade war will be as bitter every whit as the blood war. To dominate the rich American markets will be the special objective of several powerful nations.

These trade enemies will apply to our economic exploitation, the labor of millions of men trained by the intensity of war production, and of muscular effort and discipline into a precision, speed and general efficiency never before reached in so large a way.

What is compulsory is most often done. That which is optional, if it is an effort, is seldom done!

If our home industries and home markets are worth protection, if "Made in U. S. A." ever is to have any value and standing, to us and to the world, then it must be compulsory!

In the war, we were "Caught with our pants down!" In the trade war let's have them up for a change! Let's make it compulsory!—New York Daily News Record.

EVILS OF PRICE-FIXING

A college president from the East, in a public address in this city has just recommended us to prepare for price fixing by the government as a permanent institution.

Such advice, of course, could only come from one not himself a producer, but who might hope to be an active assistant in the price-fixing process.

The wretched work now being done in price fixing will not dispose the public to favor its continuance one moment after it can be got rid of. Price fixing which compels people to pay more for wheat substitutes than for the wheat itself, when the cost of producing the substitutes is much less than that of producing wheat, is not likely to induce a liking for the system. It is endured, with much grumbling, not as a war necessity, which it is not, but as the best officials can do to deal with war necessities.

Nobody knows enough to fix prices over a continent, or ever will know. Even if one knew today what ought to be the prices of everything everywhere the prices would be wrong the next day.

If the much-abused word "liberty" means anything of consequence, it means the ability of each one of us to do what he pleases so only that he does not infringe on the liberty of another. I that is not what the word means, then all talk of liberty is humbug.

To the extent that liberty is curtailed effort will be curtailed, with a corresponding reduction in production. The strong and alert will look out for themselves, but the multitude is likely to starve.

A writer says that Germany is twelve per cent democratic. The submerged twelve per cent!

Is Jim Reed of Missouri ill? He has not attacked Herbert C. Hoover recently.

INCREASED NUMBER OF SHEEP AND CATTLE TO BE GRAZED ON THE NATIONAL FORESTS

The Department of Agriculture authorizes the following:

To meet the war needs of the country sheep and cattle will be grazed on the national forests in increased numbers this year. Half a million more cattle will be taken care of than last year, according to the officials of the Forest Service. This will bring the total number of stock grazed under permit to about 9,000,000 sheep, 2,360,000 head of cattle, and 51,000 swine.

This increase is on top of an increase of 200,000 sheep and 100,000 cattle made last year, when it was recognized that the country's need for beef, mutton, wool and hides called for the fullest possible use of the national forest ranges.

Through conservative handling of these ranges for more than 10 years their productivity has been steadily rising. With the country at war, the Secretary of Agriculture felt it was necessary to take some chances of overgrazing in the interest of larger immediate production. The results of admitting a larger number of live stock were, however, carefully watched. The further increases made this year are mainly additional stock that can be grazed without injury to the ranges through more intensive methods of use.

These include readjustments in the allotments of range, closer utilization of the forage, and the opening up of country not before used for grazing stock. In order to make the new areas accessible to stock it has been in many instances necessary to construct trails or driveways. Watering facilities have also been improved. Various increased allowances have been authorized only after careful consideration.

The largest increase has been made in the Colorado and Wyoming forests, where 51,000 additional cattle and 151,000 more sheep will be grazed. In the State of California there will be 137,000 more sheep will be grazed. In the State of California there will be 137,000 more sheep. The provision for more cattle is widely distributed through relatively small increases on practically all of the forests.

In Colorado virtually all of the additional sheep to be grazed are owned in small numbers by settlers of the immediate vicinity. Under present war-time conditions it is no longer necessary to handle sheep in large bands in order to make the handling profitable.

AMERICAN SOLDIER IN FRANCE SPENDS NOT MORE THAN SIX DOLLARS A MONTH; ALMOST ALL SENDING THEIR MONEY HOME

The national war work council of the Y. M. C. A. has issued the following:

Who says that Uncle Sam's soldiers over seas are spendthrifts?

Whoever it was that said it was all wrong, anyhow. The latest word from France declares that our men in khaki over there are practising an economy that makes the civilians back home seem wastrels by contrast. The average American soldier spends not more than 20 cents a day, and makes that modest sum pay for his toilet articles, his tobacco, and sweets.

Nearly all our fighting men are saving money. Many of them are "paying for the privilege of fighting for Uncle Sam" by buying Liberty bonds and war-savings stamps enough to make the folks who aren't fighting ashamed of themselves. Almost all American soldiers send money home on pay day.

E. A. R. Hungerford, one of the Y. M. C. A. men at the front, who helps the boys in khaki with their arrangement for sending money home, and who is in a good position to know how their finances stand, recently wrote back as follows:

"The American soldier is the thriftest American alive."

"I have Liberty bonds, war savings stamps, military insurance, and have allotted $15 a month to the folks back home," said an artilleryman who was in the hut last evening. There are thousands of Uncle Sam's soldiers in France who can truthfully say the same thing. They just seem to have good sense about money matters. On pay day the rush is not to buy knick-knacks, but to make some useful disposition of money.

"I want to send some money home is a statement heard constantly by the Young Men's Christian Association worker in France. The 'Y' has purposely made it easy for the soldier to send money home. All he has to do is to leave his money with the man to do is to leave his money with the man in the hut, get a receipt for it, and indicate the name and address of the person to whom he desires the money sent. The Young Men's Christian Association has arrangements with banking institutions which makes possible the rapid and inexpensive transfer of any amount of money to any bank or person in the States.

"Our soldiers are thinking straight about money matters. They are not misers by any means, and they are willing to spend a small amount on things that go to make life more enjoyable, but their chief thought is to insure their economic independence when the war is over and they return to civilian life.

"The average sale to the soldiers who come into our Young Men's Christian Association center—and they are artillery men, engineers, and doughboys—is almost exactly a franc a day, 30 francs, or about $6 a month. The percentage that could be accused of unwise expenditure of money is negligible, much smaller than in civilian life."

It never occurs to the self-made man that some woman might want to marry him with the idea of making a new man of him.

EVERY INSTINCT TELLS US WAR MUST GO ON —KIPLING

Plea of English Writer to His Own People Is Applicable to All Americans

POET PAYS HIS OWN TOLL—THE LIFE OF HIS ONLY SON

Without an Allied Victory, He Declares, Earth Becomes Hell Without Hope

(Rudyard Kipling knows war. He knows world politics and relations. He knows Germany. And he has paid his toll—the life of his only son—to defeat her. Because of these things what he has to say carries a message to us over here. Of America, too, it is true that "Nothing else under Heaven matters today except that the war shall go on to that end." There is no way of carrying it on unless we Americans have the money to use for it. Kipling gives some straight, sound, reasons why the people of this country must buy Liberty Bonds.)

By RUDYARD KIPLING.

(In a Speech at Folkestone.)

From time to time the representatives of the Allies meet together and lay down what the war aims of the Allies are. From time to time our statesmen repeat them. They all agree we are fighting for freedom and liberty, for the right of small States to exist, and for nations to decide for themselves how they are to be governed. All this we understand and perfectly believe. That is the large view of the situation. What is the personal aspect of the case for you and me?

We are fighting for our lives, the lives of every man, woman, and child here and everywhere else. We are fighting that we may not be herded into actual slavery such as the Germans have established by force of their arms in large parts of Europe. We are fighting against eighteen hours a day forced labor under the lash or at the point of the bayonet, with a dog's death and a dog's burial at the end of it. We are fighting that men, women, and children may not be tortured, burned, and mutilated in the public streets, as has happened in this town and in hundreds of others. And we will go on fighting till the race who have done these things are in no position to continue or repeat their offenses.

No Half-way House 'Tween Victory and Defeat.

If for any reason whatever we fall short of victory—and there is no half-way house between victory and defeat—what happens to us? This: Every relation, every understanding, every decency upon which civilization has been so anxiously built up will go—will be washed out, because it will have been proved unable to endure.

The whole idea of democracy—which at bottom is what the Hun fights against—will be dismissed from men's minds, because it will have been shown incapable of maintaining itself against the Hun. It will die; and it will die discredited, together with every belief and practice that is based on it.

The Hun ideal, the Hun's room-tones of life, will take its place throughout the world. Under that dispensation man will become once more the natural prey, body and goods, of his better-armed neighbor. Women will be the mere instrument for continuing the breed, the vessel of man's lust and man's cruelty; and labor will become a thing to be knocked on the head if it dares to give trouble, and worked to death if it does not.

And from this order of life there will be no appeal, no possibility of any escape. This is what the Hun means when he says he intends to impose German KULTUR—which is the German religion—upon the world. This is precisely what the world has banded itself together to resist. It will take every ounce in us; it will try us out to the naked soul.

Our trial will not be made less by the earnest advice and suggestions that we should accept some sort of compromise, which means defeat, put forward by Hun agents and confederates among us. They are busy in that direction already.

— Or Earth Becomes A Hell Without Hope.

But be sure of this: Nothing—nothing we may have to endure now will weigh one featherweight compared with what we shall most certainly have to suffer if for any cause we fail of victory.

The war must go on. The more we have suffered in this war, the more clearly do we see this necessity. Our hearts, our reason, every instinct in us that lifts us above the mere brute, show us that the war must go on. Otherwise earth becomes a hell without hope. The men, the ships, the munitions must go forward to the war, and behind them must come the money, without which nothing can move. Where our hearts are there must our treasure be also. There has been a great deal of money spent in England lately, several millions a day for the last twelve hundred days. That means that many people have had the chance of earning more money than they could have earned in peace times.

Our security for our loan is not only the whole of the British Empire, but also the whole of civilization, which has pooled its resources in men, money, and material to carry on this war to victory. Nothing else under Heaven matters today except that the war shall go on to that end.

If every cloud had a silver lining it's no wonder some people are always up in the clouds.

Some people couldn't tell the truth if they tried, others can't tell it when they hear it.

GLARING LIGHTS

Are Dangerous—Many Motor Cars Being Operated in This City Without Approved Dimming Devices.

The time is drawing near when the use of passenger automobiles will be greatly increased particularly at night. As the weather becomes warmer motorists who have not used their cars to any extent during the winter months will begin taking evening drives.

With the increased number of cars on the streets and roads the danger from the glaring headlights of automobiles who have failed to obey the law by equipping their cars with an approved dimming device will also increase.

There are many automobiles running around without any dimming device whatever, endangering the lives of the drivers and the lives of drivers of other cars, as well as pedestrians.

Large numbers of automobiles travel over the streets every night with glaring headlights, absolutely disregarding the driving comfort and safety of others.

When the glare from these lights strikes another driver it is almost impossible for him to see just where he is going and to prevent colliding with another vehicle or striking a pedestrian. He has no chance of securing the other car's number unless he turns around and gives chase.

The policeman, however, has the advantage; he can see the car coming, can determine whether or not the lights are properly dimmed, and if not get the number from the rear after it has passed.

If this plan is followed rigidly for a short time, a number brought to arrest and heavily fined it is likely to put an end to this very dangerous violation of the law.

It has been pointed out that dealers can also help matters along by strongly urging purchasers of cars to equip them with proper lenses before they are delivered.

There is another set of motorists that violate the law requiring the proper lighting of their vehicles, those who do not have their rear lights in the proper place and those who do not keep their rear lamps burning.

The law requires the tail lamps to be in such a position that they will throw a white light on the license number.

It has been pointed out that this is practiced more by the reckless driver than by others, as it enables him to get away after an accident at night without his identification number becoming known.

The man who fails to keep his lamp burning at all, in addition to violating the law requiring that a light be thrown on the tag, violates as well that section requiring that a red light be shown in the rear. He also is always in danger of having some one crash into him from the rear, with the probability that his neglect will necessitate his paying for the damage done the other car as well as his own.

In spite of the fact that Hope never dies Disappointment is always hovering around to hang the crape.

AFTER THE WAR

Two fairly definite schools of thought have emerged in this country from the tangle of opinions which the world war has thrust upon a people busily engaged in working out its own destiny under rules that formerly had seemed fixed for all time.

One of these is strongly inclined to look upon the winning of the war as the supreme and only task. With them the evils of the day are sufficient without any reaching forward into the future for the purpose of coping with evils yet to come. The other sees a new world destined to arise out of the chaos of the old, and insists that the measure of advance preparations to meet its requirements will determine the part which a great and free people will play therein.

It is very much a question whether these two schools would not speedily unite into one if a clear understanding of common aims could be reached. Even more significant are a host of current happenings in lending support to the conviction that the very preparation for the prosecution of the war to a triumphant conclusion are paving the way to meet the new conditions so certain to be brought about.

The most striking evidence in this respect is found in the manner in which the demands of war have shaken thought and action out of their accustomed grooves. While only a perverted philosophy, such as the German has taught, can distort this into a defense and apology for war as such, it must be admitted that what is known as the "vis inertiae" has no more rest-disturbing antagonist than that produced by the universal clash of arms. In the one instance, of airplane development alone, no one doubts that much greater advance has been made since the fateful month of July, 1914, than would have been accomplished in a half century if the Beast of Berlin had not dreamed that The Day had come.

How far the shaking up of slothful ease has taken place in other directions would comprise an interesting and almost endless story. To begin with, our "splendid isolation" is gone for all time. The exigencies of war have determined this. They have done more. The Hun submarine has made it necessary for America to build the greatest merchant marine that ever sailed the Seven Seas. While this is still in the building it will be finished. And then will come the enforced necessity of utilizing it after the war. This can only mean that brutal German diplomacy once more turned the wrong card, for her own commercial supremacy, gained through "peaceful" trade penetrations with vicious visions of autocratic domination ever following in the wake, is hopelessly doomed.

If there is any doubt of this it may be recalled that Congress instinctively recognized the inevitable. For several years the Webb bill, designed to give American exporters a chance to meet the German cartel system on even terms by permitting combinations of American selling agencies in foreign trade, failed of passage. There was opposition on various grounds. But within the last few months it was put through without opposition. Thus we will have the ships and we will have the American policy, too.

Germany had a strangle hold on the potato supply of the world and held it in the peace days. America depended upon Chile for nitrates, although a world war might cut off the source of supply at any moment and leave her helpless for materials essential to munitions making. This extremity did not come. But the Hun still dreams of the war after the war. So we are fighting the war and looking ahead at the same time. Rich potato discoveries have been made in California, and their development has been fostered by wise legislation. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been appropriated for the establishment of gigantic plants for extracting nitrogen from the air, which will give us all the nitrate needed for war and an independent supply for fertilizers when peace comes. Congress has just passed its "war minerals" bill to encourage the increased production of many rare minerals formerly imported from other countries. Here, again, the submarine has worked backward, for when the war is over we will be upholding every known metal and will no longer have need for recourse to Madagascar, Ceylon and Far Cathay.

The subs have also touched the food supply of America, as has the whole course of the Kaiser's nightmarish visions. Oils and fats are in unprecedented demand. We pick no acorns as yet, but the leghyarny encountered by the Department of Agriculture in its endeavor to spread the use of new foods has disappeared in the presence of the German menace. The peanut crop in the South jumped last year to 51,000,000 bushels from 35,000,000 bushels the year before, and will go to 100,000,000 bushels this year. Ten centuries before Christ the Chinese were cultivating the soya bean, far richer in nutriment and oils than any of our native varieties, but inherent inertia and the clogging force of habit combated the best efforts of the food specialists to bring about its introduction here until Mars put his heel in our faces. No the industry is spreading to every state and we will have oils and butter substitutes, as well as table food, from this new edible, not to mention possibilities of cheese, coffee and even wines, which the Chinese have been able to extract from a commodity which is the leading product of Manchuria and is not far from second place in China.

Under stress of demands for liberty loans and confronted with unprecedented taxation measures, all of the Kaiser's doings, American business has had its future necessities safeguarded by the passage of the War Finance Corporation bill, which provides $500,000,000 for prudent and

DOUBT DISAPPEARS

No One in Maysville Who Has a Bad Back Should Ignore This Double Proof.

Does your back ever ache? Have you suspected your kidneys? Backache is sometimes kidney ache. With it may come dizzy spells, Sleeplessness, tired, dull days, Distressing urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills have been endorsed by thousands.

Are recommended here at home. You have read Maysville proof. Read now the Maysville sequel. Renewed testimony, tested by time.

Mrs. John Burns, West Second Street, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and there were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since." (Statement given February 13, 1914.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE On November 15, 1914, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills today, as ever. I have not needed a kidney medicine since I took them."

Mrs. Burns is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Burns had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. intelligent financing by the Government of corporation essential to the war-making plans of the nation. This is susceptible of expansion to $4,000,000,000 through credits advanced by the Federal Reserve Board. Thus a safe elasticity has been devised in capital for war purposes. Will this not suggest itself as effective in the peace times to follow? And, if so, has not the enemy dictated that the nation shall grow increasingly greater and more powerful, in spite of its natural tendencies?

These are a few of the economic and fiscal changes now in the making as a result of the unwarranted attack of Germany upon the peace of the world. Something of Samson's riddle, so mysterious and yet so widely applicable, is involved in the process: "Out of the eater has come forth meat, and out of the strong has come forth sweetness." We of today may not be permitted to see the full fruition. Yet it is left to us to say, as did Gerard to Pietro, when, beset by passing privations and dogged by Italian bravos, he gazed at the handiwork of his artist friend: "This picture will hang over many a brave banquet after our bodies have gone to feed the worms!"

OWLS DEVOUR PIGS

(Chemanus (B. C.) Cod. New York World.)

Sam Yik Kee, Chinese patriot and pig raiser, is distressed and the potential pork production of Canada has been reduced by ten fine pigs as the result of the depredations of horned owls.

Sam Yik Kee had ten sturdy little pigs. Then there were nine, and he couldn't account for the shortage. Next day another disappeared. Each day thereafter the Yik Kee piggery was shy another suckling animal.

After the nine had disappeared the Chinaman happened to look upward and saw the carcass of one of his choice pigs hanging from the limbs of a tree. The mystery was solved. He had been robbed by horned owls. An active war is now being waged against the feathered thieves.

When a fellow is satisfied to take things as they come, things don't seem to come his way.

Most fellows are apt to tell a girl she is a dream, but it isn't every one that wakes up.

THRIFT STAMPS WITH MEALS

(War Saver)

A menu in a Dallas (Texas) cafe reads: "Thrifty stamp, 25 cents; thrifty-stamp and eggs, 45 cents. Hot corn cakes and thrifty stamp, 35 cents. Pie and thrifty stamp, 30 cents." &c.

"I've been wanting to get some of these stamps, but just haven't had time to go to the bank and get 'em," said a busy business man as he hurriedly at his lunch and slurred his words to save time. "Give men an order of chicken, a head of lettuce, French fried potatoes, apple pie and all the thrifty stamps that go with 'em." Taking thrifty stamps with your meals is a new way to dose up on patriotism.

THE EFFICIENT WOMAN

The foundation of efficiency lies in a robust, healthy constitution. When ill, weak and suffering from dragging-down pains, inflammatory and ulcerated conditions or displacement with consequent backache, headache, nervousness and "the blues," no woman can be efficient or hardly a fit companion to live with. If every woman in this condition would only give that most successful of all root and herb remedies, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, she would soon be restored to health and reach the goal of her ambition for personal efficiency.

REV. MILLER LEAD PRAYER MEETING

Rev. B. A. Miller, the new pastor of the Aberdeen Baptist Church, will conduct the Prayer Meeting service at the First Baptist Church in this city Thursday evening at 7:30. Rev. Miller has been in his new field a little over a month and his work there is starting off nicely.

The men of the local Baptist Church have challenged the women to a contest for the largest attendance at Prayer Meeting during the month of May. On last Thursday night the men were victorious and they extend a cordial invitation to the men of Maysville to help them beat the "Huns" in this contest.

They think two successive wins will put the enemy to rout. Let all the men who can possibly arrange to come, be present Thursday night.

OUR CITY

Bids Fair to Be the Garden Spot of the World—Even the Ash Piles Promise a Fine Tomato Crop.

Mr. C. P. Dieterich, the City Ward Advisor, says: "It has been many a day since we've been so busy as we were Court Day." They sent out over 4,000 tomato plants on Monday and in many cases 25 or 30 miles from here.

Mr. Dieterich says the most noticeable quantities of seeds sold are beans, tomatoes, cabbage, and corn. He is very well pleased with the response the citizens gave to his appeal to raise plenty of potatoes. Particularly noticeable is the fact that so many people are purchasing broom corn seed. The people of Maysville don't intend to pay the exorbitant prices for brooms next year that the broom trust has thrust upon them this year.

Mr. Ben Cole feels mighty good over the co-operation he is receiving from the citizens in the First Ward. He says that Mr. Ed Huron and Ed Kelly are working very hard to have a fine garden. Mrs. Amos McLaughlin intends to be of all the service she can in helping with the war and is raising a war garden that fine. Mrs. McLaughlin we hope that more Maysville ladies will follow her example.

Dr. Brand is putting in a beautiful garden says Mr. F. H. Clark, the Ward Advisor in the Second Ward. Dr. Cartmell also has a very promising garden. Short street is cultivating a very excellent crop of weeds which will be harvested next fall. The Misses Cartmell also have a very fine garden and very artistically arranged. Mr. Teager is putting in quite an extensive garden. Mike Redmond and Miss Casey are arranging a garden at the rear of the Court House.

Rev. Will B. Campbell says that Frank Wright has a very systematic and orderly way of cultivating his garden. Ross Owens is demonstrating his ability to get more vegetables out of a small space of ground than any person he knows.

Mr. Outten is working very hard to set a good example to the war gardeners in the Fourth Ward. Already he has fenced in and planted the city lot which Council loaned him for this purpose. He is raising a fine crop of tomatoes on an ash pile in back of his house. He says that the finest crop of tomatoes he ever raised were grown on an ash heap.

Mr. J. B. Orr of the Fifth Ward still contends that one of the gardens in his ward will capture the first prize for the month of May. There are over fifteen contestants who have told him they were endeavoring to win the prize. Of special interest of the Fifth Ward is the number of women who are raising war gardens and they are working to have a garden just a little better than their neighbors. Is wonderful says Mr. Orr. All the debris and rubbish is being removed from the river bank, preparatory to planting a big crop of corn and cucumbers. James Wallace has a fine garden. Mr. Andrew Hunter and William Anderson are devoting most of their time to raising garden products and their gardens are blossoming forth with rich fruits for their labor. Al Maddox is putting in a big garden and Ed Hoops is raising a garden that would do credit to an old timer. Most every space that is suitable for the raising of a war garden is being cultivated says Mr. Conrad and Mr. Burwell have planted exceptionally fine big gardens. Nelson Bratton is going to have one of the prettiest gardens I have ever seen, he even has all the trees whitewashed. I believe that no gardeners in the city are working harder to have a more productive and well arranged garden than Mr. Borge and Mr. Jacobs.

PHYSICIANS

Are Invited to Co-operate With the Federal Children's Bureau Making Survey of the Children Under Five Years of Age in This City.

All physicians desiring to co-operate in the patriotic service of the registration and survey of the children under five to be conducted by the Federal Children's Bureau through the Council of Defense beginning May 13, are requested to communicate with the chairman of their precinct or of any precinct in which they may be interested.

It is not intended to put too great an additional burden on physicians, often already overtaxed, but their co-operation will of course increase its value a hundredfold.

If the assistance of a physician cannot be secured in any given locality the chairmen are instructed to proceed according to their best judgment and ability.

As the chief of the Children's Bureau has stated "Here is a thing that can only be done if the American women will put their shoulder to the wheel."

That the women of Mason county have put their shoulders to the wheel is evidenced by the able committees of good women now spread like a net work through every ward and precinct of the city and county and ready for their task.
